

AGILE FLUENCY PROJECT

The Agile Fluency Diagnostic is a tool for Agile coaches and Scrum Masters to use to help their organizations progress on their path through fluency. It's used as part of a larger improvement lifecycle which involves working with leaders to identify the appropriate levels of fluency for their teams, conducting self-assessment workshops with teams, and curating the results into recommendations for supporting teams' efforts and making systemic improvements.

We license the Diagnostic to qualified Agile coaches via our Agile Fluency Diagnostic Facilitators' Workshop. This is a small-group workshop, limited to six people at most, that takes place in several remote sessions over the course of three months.

Our next training workshop will begin on August 30, 2018 and sessions take place through November 29, 2018. We will use Zoom videoconference as our training channel.
